Says:

Subscribers Galore : Exploring World's Top Youtube Channels is a guided project on SmartInternz that teaches you how to analyze YouTube data using Python1.

Does :

There are many resources online that can help you with tips and advice on how to become a successful YouTube content creator.

See an example

Thinks:

There are many resources online that can help you with tips and advice on how to create a successful YouTube channel.

1. For example, you can check out this article on Forbes that covers some of the basics, or this video on Think Media that gives you a step-by-step guide.

Feels:

The YouTube channels are a great way to express yourself, share your knowledge, and connect with others. I enjoy watching different kinds of YouTube channels, especially ones that are informative, entertaining, and engaging. 😊